

CHICKAMIN RIVER

On Mainland - East of Revillagigedo Island - East of Behm Canal and South of the 56th Parallel of No. Latitude.

Arrived July 13 and no salmon were in evidence. Several fishermen have examined bay and have found salmon too scarce to make any hauls.

August 1 marked the first fishing of the season, when 5 or 6 hauls were made, averaging 1000 per haul, 90 percent being humpbacks.

From August 2 to August 6, the fish which had been in the bay, practically disappeared; however, again on August 6 a few salmon were seen. They come in on high tide and go out on low tide.

There have not been any happenings of interest to report, except the fish seemed unusually scarce, the only haul being made was that noted on August 1.

M. J. Lovold,
Stream Watchman.

Season of 1924.